COVENTRY WORKERS' COMP SERVICES RECEIVES FULL URAC ACCREDITATION

Franklin, Tenn. (June 30, 2009) – Coventry Workers' Comp Services (CWCS) is pleased to announce that it has received full URAC accreditation for the CWCS Utilization Management program. This accreditation comes as a result of a thorough review of CWCS policies and procedures, personnel and organizational structure by URAC officials, verifying that CWCS' Utilization Management program adheres to national and state Utilization Management best practices.

Mindy Hightower, Vice President of Utilization Review, commented on the notice of accreditation stating, "We are very proud to have this prestigious accreditation renewed. We have worked very hard at developing a sound product that places strong importance on quality procedures and practices that help deliver the compelling results our clients have come to expect."

Derrick Amato, Chief Operating Officer of CWCS' Clinical Services states, "The accreditation is the culmination of hard work by many CWCS employees to ensure we offer an outstanding Utilization Management program which meets the expectations of CWCS clients."

CWCS' Utilization Management program is available in 48 States (excluding PA and OR), and with URAC accreditation, helps workers' compensation payors address the increasingly complex regulatory environment in workers' compensation, especially in those states where use of a URAC accredited Utilization Review program is required.
